On Husband

GREENSBURG, Dec. 14.—In a statement at the county jail yesterday, Mrs. Alice Katonka, wife of Steve Katonka, who is in jail charged with the murder of two men on the road between Guilford and Farmington, N. M., last August, placed all the blame on her husband and told of the deed in detail.

The woman said there was a report out about Steve Katonka being insane, but declared it untrue. She said he was always brutal and added that if she told all she was forced to endure during the six years of her life with him it would not be believed.

"He gave me my choice of going along with him or having my brains blown out," she said. She declared Steve had placed a revolver in her hand, and, pressing his automatic to her head, said: "If I say no, you shoot." The woman said she shut her eyes and fired at Kelly. "Then," she added, "I heard an awful report, and saw Gray sort of shove himself back in his seat." She said her husband threw the bodies of the men over a nearby bridge.

Telling of the many times her husband abused her she said he had often told her he was "sorry he hadn't killed me" and he often said he "never would be happy until he saw me stretched out cold." She told also of her husband's abuse at the home near Laurel and said he had wanted her to lead an immoral life and support him, which she flatly refused to do.

The woman and her husband were arrested by state police in connection with the deaths of Steve Gray and William Kelly of Guilford, N. M., who had been hired by Katonka to make an automobile trip. The men have not been seen since that day.

AUXILIARY TO PLAY
SANTA CLAUS FOR INVALID SOLDIERS*Will Send Christmas Boxes to Inmates of Mount Alto
Sanitarium.*GIVE LOCAL ASSISTANCE

The American Legion Auxiliary of Mount Alto, Bishop Post No. 301, is to play Santa Claus to at least two ex-service men who are inmates of the Mount Alto sanitarium for tubercular patients. Arrangements with the object in view were made at the regular monthly meeting of the auxiliary held last evening when a committee consisting of Mrs. Lou Robbins, Mrs. Mary Mann and Mrs. Katherine Wallace was appointed to prepare boxes and forward to the sanitarium in time for Christmas.

This action was taken in response to a request from the state headquarters of the auxiliary which has secured a list of all the ex-service men who are inmates of sanitariums in the state. These names are being forwarded to the several auxiliaries which will prepare Christmas boxes and send them direct to the men named.

Other steps were taken last night with a view to relieving distress that may come to any ex-service man of the city or to those passing through. Recently a number of such persons, who have been traveling on a freight train in search of work, have been arrested and committed to the lockup at city hall with no subsistence other than the prison fare of buns and water. Some individual members of the auxiliary have learned of such cases and have provided substantial meals at their own expense. A committee was named last night to take charge of this work on behalf of the auxiliary.

With a view to assisting the Bishop post in providing for the relief of any ex-service men in need a committee consisting of Mrs. D. K. Dillow and Mrs. John L. Gans was appointed to confer with officers of the post.

Other business of the usual kind included the submission of the report of Miss Ruth Shallenberger, treasurer, and the report of the committee in charge of the Armistice day in which which showed a substantial balance remaining after all expenses had been paid.

Mrs. Lou Robbins, Mrs. John P. McKeen, Mrs. J. W. Buttermore, Mrs. Fred H. Harman and Mrs. B. M. Rice were named members of the organizing committee to select the officers who will be elected at the January meeting. Mrs. Robert E. Grini was elected a member of the auxiliary.

The entertainment program of the evening, in charge of Miss Mary McKeen, was a pleasing feature and very much enjoyed by those in attendance. It included two piano solos, "For Spring" and "Scherezo" (Grieg), rendered by Miss Margaret Kennedy; Scottie's two readings, "Lazarus" and "Encouragement," presented by Miss Margaret Madden; and two vocal solos, "A May Morning" and "Four Leaf Clover," by Miss Winnie Harrigan accompanied by Miss Kennedy.

Far East Affairs
Confront Delegates
At Arms Conference

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The naval ratio and shipping, now the two overshadowing issues of the arms conference, both were at a critical stage today, but with varying prospects of immediate settlement. There was every indication that the naval ratio discussions were proceeding favorably and some of the delegates at conference of the "big three" today.

The shipping negotiations, on the other hand, have developed a situation described in official circles as "very delicate" and the Japanese delegates have referred to Tokyo the matter of the Kiao-Chow railroad, a point which has developed into a snarl. It is stated that the Chinese and Japanese plenipotentiaries may refer these differences directly to a "big four" composed of the American, British, Japanese and Chinese delegations.

Japan's desire to retain her new battleship, the Mutsu, is the issue about which centered naval discussions with the Japanese apparently ready to accept the American 5-5-3 plan if permitted to keep the Mutsu and scrap instead an older vessel. Similar conversations for the British and American navies would be required as an offset and the lack of arranging all the technical details involved in one which is requiring considerable discussion.

Congress Will Take Up Soldier Measure After Holidays.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The House Ways and Means committee, now that the tariff and tax revision are out of its hands for the present at least, will take up the soldier bonus question immediately after the Christmas recess. Chairman Fordney announced that the committee's first order of new business would be adjusted compensation legislation. Its primary concern, he added, would be to determine how funds to pay a bonus can be raised.

The House membership, according to present indications, will be divided as to how bonus payments should be financed. Opinion seems to be general that such a bill must provide a means to raise the funds.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—In a statement today, J. L. Morrow, president of the National Coal Association, characterized as "baseless" reports in various parts of the country to the effect that a reduction in freight rates on coal might be expected within the next few days.

Conspiracy.*WOMAN AGAINST HIM

Justice of the Peace C. C. Garletts of Brownsville was found guilty in court in Uniontown of extortion and freed of a charge of conspiracy in a sealed verdict read at the opening of the day's session this morning. The court had ruled there was no evidence on which the defendant could be convicted of conspiracy.

The jury retired at 2 o'clock and reached an agreement at 11:30. At 3:15 o'clock the jury asked for instructions of the court. The question raised was relative to the verdict in case the jury found that the defendant did or did not receive the $100 paid to Charles Phillips, acting for Nick Stanza, in a liquor case before the defendant. Another juror also sought instructions regarding costs in the case.

The lone woman on the jury, Mrs. Anna Solomon, was said to have voted on each of the 12 ballots taken for conviction. Two men held out a long time for acquittal.

The testimony developed an unusual situation in the case of Stanza, on which $12.51 costs was charged. The costs were divided as follows: Commitment to jail, 50 cents; release, 75 cents; lookout fee, $1; hearing, 75 cents. The facts in the case were that the man was not in jail, was not released, was not in the lookout and was not given a hearing.

Mrs. Helen Smith, a waitress, charged with the murder of her husband, Frank Smith, at their home in Maxwell last June 29, was acquitted by a jury late yesterday afternoon on the first ballot. The case went to the jury shortly after 5 o'clock and a verdict was returned at 5:35 o'clock. Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen will bring in chambers when the agreement was reached.

Mrs. Smith's testimony dealt with innocent proposals of her husband to her and his inhuman attacks upon her. A miner's pick, sharpened at either end, was offered in evidence as the weapon used by the defendant in repulsing the husband's scoundrel attacks.

Circumstances surrounding their arrest were fascinating and their evidence to show they were the writers of the notes received by Tesla was uncovered. Patrolman P. M. Ruff of this city, who is involved as a witness in the case, has been in Pittsburgh for three days on the case. When postal authorities investigated they arrested the trio for using the mails to defraud and since then the men have been in jail in Pittsburg.

After Mr. Balsley had received the congratulations of his comrades and friends, who all heartily wished him many more happy birthdays, an attractive program, consisting of piano numbers by Miss Phoebe Dunn, singing by Charles M. Whitely, and talks by all the veterans, was presented. Brighter parties given by the post are happy occasions, and are looked forward to with great pleasure by the comrades, who spend the greater part of the afternoon in discussing stories in which they participated and relating their experiences during the Civil War. The party yesterday afternoon was a very delightful affair and everyone present enjoyed the occasion more than the usual guest. Following the program the veterans assembled in the dining room where an elaborate luncheon was served by Mrs. Charles H. Balsley, daughter-in-law of J. R. Balsley, assisted by Miss Phoebe Dunn and Miss Lynne Kiscoul. Yuletide appointments, with Christmas greens festooned about the chandeliers, were charmingly carried out. Centering the table was a large basket of choice fruit. Bouquets of evergreens completed the decorations. Mr. Balsley received bouquets of carnations and chrysanthemums in honor of the happy occasion. Covers were laid for Mr. Balsley, the guest of honor, Captain Edmund Dunn, Colonel James J. Barnhart, Charles H. Whitely, J. E. Jones and W. H. Shaw. Members of Mr. Balsley's family present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Balsley and daughter, Miss Catherine. Following the dinner, Colonel James J. Barnhart, in behalf of the post extended a vote of thanks to Mr. Balsley and family for their generous hospitality.

J. R. Balsley was born in Conneltsville December 13, 1843, a son of the late George H. and Sarah Shallenberger Balsley and spent all his life here. He has a wide acquaintance throughout the community and on no occasion more than a visit from his friends, both old and young. He enjoys good health considering his advanced years. Of late years he has lived retired. At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in Company H, 112nd Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry as a private. He saw hard service with the Army of the Potomac, sharing in the fortunes of that army until the battle of Gettysburg, where in the first day's battle, July 1, 1863, he was severely wounded. He was mustered out of the service with honorable discharge, January 25, 1865, with the rank of first sergeant.

When a Federal Bureau reminds you that children should not drink coffee or tea—Why not think of your own health?

The Federal Bureau of Education includes in its rules to promote health among the Nation's school children, the warning that children should not drink coffee or tea.

The reason is well known. Coffee and tea contain drugs which stimulate and often over-excite the nerves, and so upset health.

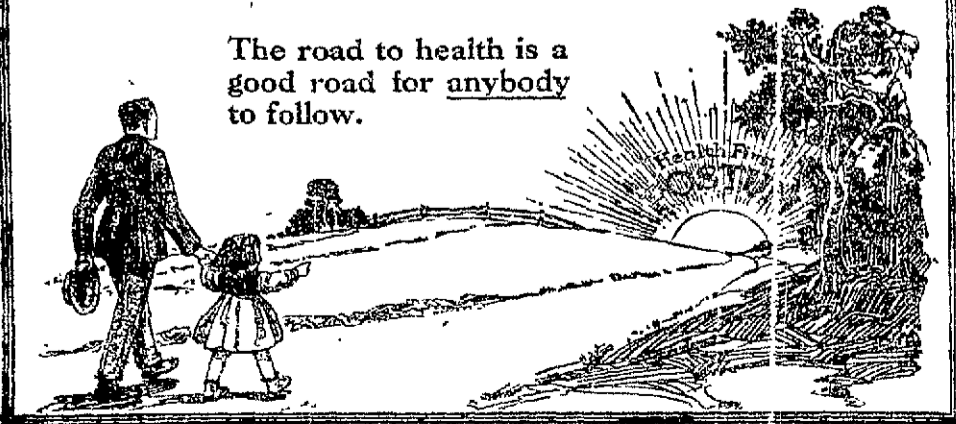

The harm is by no means confined to children, as any doctor can tell you.

If health is valuable to childhood, it is valuable always. If harm to health should be avoided until bodies grow up, is it worth taking a chance with health when bodies have grown up?

You can have that delicious and satisfying cereal beverage, Postum, with any meal, and be safe—you, and the children, too. There's charm without harm in Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

thought a good time to adopt a child.
All the children are of good birth.

CLOGGED BLOOD WITHERS THE BODY

Workers Sick and Weak from Exertion Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Men and women who toil, either physically or mentally, use-up energy.
When they overwork they use-up more energy, and sometimes the blood gets in a run-down condition. Without rest the blood cannot get back to normal, so that it becomes clogged with waste matter from over-exertion.

The clogged blood virtually withers the body. The stunted looks on pale faces, the thin, bloodless arms, the sunk cheeks and necks, the dead-tired feeling, are the results of stale blood depriving the system of life-giving oxygen.

Workers go to the drug store and get Gude's Pepto-Mangan when they feel weak and run down. They take it in either liquid or the tablet form.
That makes the blood rich and red and drives out the poisons. Life-giving oxygen, carried by the little red cells, renews the strength and builds up the entire system. Look for the name
"Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package.—Advertisement.

CITES EARTH'S 14 MOVEMENTS

Flammarton, French Astronomer, Enumerates Various Activities of Globe
During Its Travels

The fact that our earth in its voyage through space has no fewer than 14 distinct movements has been pointed out by the French astronomer and scientist, Camille Flammarton according to an article in the Paris Temps. These are as follows:

"Daily rotation, annual revolution, fluctuation or rocking due to the pre-cession of the equinoxes in a period of 25,765 years, monthly movement of the earth around the center of gravity of the earth-moon couple, motion caused by the attraction of the moon every eighteen and a half years; vibration, coming once every century, of the obliquity of the ecliptic; variations every century of the eccentricity of the terrestrial orbit; displacement of the line of apses every 21,000 years; disturbances caused by the constantly changing attraction of the planets; displacement of the center of gravity of the solar system around which the earth travels annually, this center being determined by the variable positions of the planets; perpetual variation of latitudes; daily tilts of the continental soil; displacement of the whole Milky Way, of which our sun is one star, toward the constellation of Capricorn, at the formidable speed of 375 miles per second, or 1,224,000 miles per hour."

Washington County Produces

Nearly Half Nation's Radium

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 14—Nearly one-half of all the radium produced in the United States in 1920 was turned out in Washington county.
Industrial statistics of the county,
made public by M. Hoke Gottschall, director of the Bureau of Statistics of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs, in an address before the chamber of commerce here, show that at the radium plant in Canonsburg, 182 grams were produced last year.

The entire production of the United States as shown by government figures, he said, amounted to about 40 grams. The Washington county production, on a valuation of $20,000 a gram, amounted in value to $2,184,000.
Products of a total value of $281-310,800 were turned out by the 108 industrial concerns of the county last year. The 1919 production was $176-701,800 and that of 1918, $179,880,500.
These industries gave employment to 11,827 persons. The leading industries in the value of products were the metal lines with a total production of $116,718,200 and the bituminous coal mining industry, $3,500,800.

WISER LIBERTY BOND HOLDERS.

Owners of Liberty bonds who 10 or more months ago were tempted to dispose of them, before the market was dropping to still lower levels, can congratulate themselves for having been wise and courageous enough to resist the temptation.

Beginning early last March there has been a slow but steady appreciation in the price of all the war-time securities of the government until today it is estimated that approximately $1,000,000,000 has been added to the market value.

Nine months ago the average selling price of the several bond issues was about 85 and of Victory notes 87. Today Liberty bonds are selling at 100 and Victory notes at 100. In the last few days 87 or better was paid for Liberty 4s, Liberty second 4s, Liberty first 4s and Liberty second 4s. Liberty third 4s and Liberty fourth 4s. Liberty 4s sold at around 96, the lowest on the list.

Victory 4s recently touched par, 100; while on the same day Liberty 4s sold readily at 99.9. In the winter and spring the Liberty issues will touch par, officials believe. One or two issues may go above par, it is predicted, while the Victory notes maturing within a few months are regarded as certain to sell at a premium.

Unfortunately the vast increment in value will not be shared by all of the 20,000,000 men and women who in 1917-18 responded to the government's appeal for funds with which to carry on the war. Many have been forced by their necessities to convert their bonds into cash and in practically all instances at considerably less than par, thereby causing an actual loss on the original investment.

Other bond holders have been duped into exchanging them for the stocks and bonds of wild-cat corporations of all kinds promising a larger interest return, only to later discover that they had been swindled by unscrupulous promoters. Still others took flight at the decline in market prices which continued for a long period and sold at the first opportunity and at a loss.

Those who have retained possession of these securities, in many instances bought at some inconvenience or sacrifice, will soon have their faith in the ultimate value of their investment amply rewarded. They will not only receive interest until maturity with the regularity of the recurring seasons, regardless of market price, but within comparatively short time every Liberty bond or Victory note will be worth its full face value and, in due course, will command a premium.

In these respects the history of the Liberty bond and Victory note issues is following that of all previous government securities. For some time immediately after issue they drop below par, then by degrees they return to the starting point and later command a premium. All of which confirms the advice given to investors that government securities are the safest that can be purchased. The buyers who are wisely holding onto them are giving a striking demonstration of the soundness of this advice.

HE THOUGHT DAYS WERE NUMBERED

Remedy-Name Railroad Machinist Was In Bad Shape Before Taking Tanic—Feels Fine Now.

"Since Tanic has fixed me up so fine I have every reason to be happy, for I am feeling just like a new man," said W. W. Morrow, well-known machinist at the Pennsylvania railroad shops, living at 1225 Christian street, Harrisburg, Pa.

"I had stomach trouble so bad I thought I was about done for, and that my days were numbered. I had no appetite, ate scarcely a thing, and many times didn't eat a single mouthful. The little I did eat caused gas to form in such quantities that it pressed around my heart until it had me in agony. I had such cramps after every meal they were almost unbearable, my head ached fearfully, and at night I was so restless that sleep was almost out of the question.

Well, Tanic has fixed me up in fine shape. I have a dandy appetite now, and my stomach is in perfect condition. I never have an ache or pain, am bristling with life and energy, and feel altogether like a different person. In fact, I've felt any better than I do now, and I'm certainly thankful to Tanic for restoring my health."

Tanic is sold in Connelville by the Connelville Drug Co., and by the leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Semi-Final Bout Friday to Be on Par With Main Battle

Although the boxing fans are much wrought up over the Johnny King-Johnny Ward bout which will take place Friday night at Slavish hall, the semi-final of eight rounds between Mike Moran of Mount Washington and Pete Zivie, the clever former amateur champion, is arousing considerable interest. Last January these two little men were to battle the same distance in a semi-final contest, but Moran, it will be remembered, failed to put in an appearance and Zivie knocked his substitute opponent in the second stanza.

Moran's failure to appear was given on account of sickness, but it came out later that he figured Pete too fast for him. Since then Moran has improved wonderfully, but it was no easy matter to get him to consent to meet Bill Peet's champion. This bout has been the apple of Matchmaker Duke Barry's eye ever since, but Moran is tied up this time with a heavy forfeit to insure his appearance and one of the best mills of the season will be the result when these two exceptionally fast little fellows start off on their journey.

Monday night at Motor Square Garden, Johnny Ward showed that he was in the best of condition when he dropped Steve Carter of Charleroi for the count and won his bout easily. But in defeating Carter, it must be borne in mind that Ward was above the weight he is called upon to meet. King, the McKeesport slugger weighed over 150 pounds Monday, whereas he has to come down to 140 pounds for King here Friday. Figuring this out this should give the Fayette City youth a decided advantage and will, to a great extent, offset the experience that Ward has over King. With both battlers having forfeits up to $50 each it is a foregone conclusion that Ward will be at weight and by doing so will give King the "edge."

The tickets are now on sale at the American Billiard parlor, Smith House and the Royal hotel. From the manner in which they are being disposed of, another large gathering of fight fans will be on hand to see these highly touted bouts, not to mention the opener of six rounds between Julie Schlinger and Mike Pasquale.

Casey Club Plays First Floor Game Tomorrow Night

The Casey club opens its basketball season at the parochial school hall tomorrow evening in a game against the Pittsburgh Collegians. Picking a hard proposition to open the year, Casey will play first-class teams all season.

The reputation of the Casey club is known throughout the basketball world because of the record made last season. With practically the same lineup this season the locals expect to start where they left off last March.

This afternoon, following the educational moving pictures at the Budliners & Ohio Y. M. C. A., a boys' league will be formed. It will be along the same lines as the one last season and will probably consist of four or five teams.

Music While the Yule Log Burns

Make this Christmas so happy that every member of your family will remember it throughout the year. Let music add the crowning joy to the Christmas scene while the Yule Log burns on the hearth. Music such as only The Brunswick—the accepted instrument of the musical world—can achieve.

The Brunswick costs no more than an ordinary phonograph

Pictured here are several of the most popular Brunswick models, both in cabinet and period design.

Exclusive Brunswick Features

Brunswick plays all makes of records without attachments. This means that with a Brunswick in your home you can enjoy all the great artists, regardless of the make of records for which they record.

This is accomplished by the Ultona—a part of The Brunswick—not an "attachment."

Another exclusive Brunswick feature is the Oval Tone Amplifier or horn, made entirely of wood and moulded like a fine old violin. It is responsible for much of the wondrously beautiful Brunswick tone.

Fishermen Asked To Get Licenses By January 1, 1922

HAVERSBURG, Dec. 14.—The resident fishermen's license law, which was approved by the governor May 10, 1921, becomes effective January 1, 1922. It provides that all citizens of the state of Pennsylvania (male or female) over 21 years of age, must take out a license to fish or angle in any of the waters of this commonwealth or in the waters bounding or adjacent thereto.

These licenses can be secured from the county treasurer of any county, or the Department of Fisheries, Harrisburg, upon the payment of $1 for each license, together with the cost of treasurer's fee, if secured through him. In applying for license the applicant must give name, residence, occupation and age. The act provides that for violations the fine is $25 and the Department of Fisheries will endeavor to enforce the same.

All persons who are interested in the propagation of fish and the purification of the streams are urged to take out their licenses by January 1, as the appropriations received from the last Legislature by the Department of Fisheries were only sufficient to operate all branches of its work until January 1, 1922.

THEY JUST DON'T SEEM TO COUNT!

BAGS AND PURSES

Diminutive Proportions the Most Distinctive Note.

Despite Small Size They Contain Compartments Combining Usefulness With Ornamentation.

A handbag or purse is an important accessory of the modern woman's outfit. The French woman looks upon this article principally for its decorative value, while her American sister considers it more from the standpoint of utility.

The most distinctive note in the new purses lies in their diminutive proportions, but despite their small size they contain numerous necessary compartments, thus combining usefulness with ornamentation.

To achieve the compact effect mentioned above without sacrificing the various essential compartments, designers of bags have been forced to tax their ingenuity to the utmost. That they have succeeded in their task is evident from the lovely things now being offered.

There are bags in pouch shapes, considerably smaller than the purses of past seasons; bags with drawstrings, and last, but perhaps best liked, the envelope purse. The latter is being shown in numerous different shapes, the square and oblong effects being unusually prominent.

In bags evolved from dress materials, duvetyne and fustian silk as well as cloth and satin striped duvetyne are in the vanguard. Velvet and moire, although used to some extent, both seem to have been relegated to a less prominent place.

For, too, plays a large part in purses. Not only are entire bags made from it, but those of silk or duvetyne have for applied as a trimming. This is especially true of the belt of the monkey, which has been used in every conceivable way on this season's clothes.

One model of tan duvetyne has the fur fringe projecting from folds, while another it is seen beneath the "rings" and allowed to cover a considerable portion of the bag.

Brass and baby lamb are frequently used for the envelope shapes, while moire, which is more pliable, finds a place in the pouchy effects and drawstring bags.

HOUSE EFFECT THE FEATURE

FOR THE GROWING DAUGHTER

Skirts May Be Arranged to Be Lowered; Finish Shoulders of Waist Without Sewing Up.

When little daughters outgrow their petticoats so rapidly that mother seems all the time making new ones, try finishing the shoulders of the waist without sewing them up; that is, make shoulder-straps, lapping them at the top and closing with buttons and buttonholes. It is then easy to let the skirts down by adjusting the straps. Instead of buttoning a small strap pin may be used to fasten them. This is a far better plan than to turn down some of the material where the skirt is sewed to the waist. Another very good plan which may be used in conjunction with the open shoulders, is to make a wide hem and run a tuck in the wrong side of it, which will take up a part of the hem; then, when it is desired to lengthen the skirt you have only to pull out the tuck.

For Cool Days. Wash dresses are just as popular for children during the cold months as in the summer time. Fabrics particularly favored are sateen, heavy cotton crepe, which is often combined with bright-colored cretonne, unbleached muslin trimmed in cretonne or in appliqued motifs of bright-colored chambray, sateen or linen, and both checked and striped ginghams. Bloomers accompany most of the frocks for the child up to six years.

THE FROCK OF BLACK VELVET

Simplicity is well exemplified in this street frock of black velvet, faced with gray tulle and trimmed with lobster-red braid. The open rolling collar is of dark-gray satin.

TOGS FOR THE OUTDOOR GIRL

Miss 1921 Is Permitted to Don Breeches and Coat Not Unlike Clothes Brother Wears.

This is the age in which the girl who goes for a canter down the bridge path is dressed in smart breeches not unlike her brother's, and with them she wears a coat of severe cut and excellent workmanship. A derby or pressed beaver sailor tops her head; a tailored blouse, riding boots and heavy gloves complete her costume.

She is truly a contrast to her grandmother, who mounted a sidesaddle in a trailing full skirt with lace frills at her wrists and throat and on whose head rode a large plumed hat. However, this is not the only way in which Miss 1921 is a contrast to her grandmother.

For the golf course and the country like, the hunting trip and the skating party the new knickerbocker suit has made its welcome appearance. These suits are made of rough tweeds and come with the knickerbockers and the short skirts, which button up the front and have large, roomy pockets at the sides.

In case these suits are not warm enough for the winter winds, stunning topcoats of heavy velours and tweeds cut on simple masculine lines, or woolen sweaters in many different designs and colors, are distinctly feminine. One sweater that lends itself admirably for winter wear has a long scarf collar that can be worn open with a tuxedo-front effect, but catching the fringed ends through the belt or it may be made to serve the double purpose of sweater and scarf by throwing the ends about the throat and permitting them to hang down the back.

Heavy plaided striped skirts are worn with these sweaters one stripe of the skirt being of the same color as the sweater. This makes a very attractive costume to wear before the fog fire in the hunting lodge at the end of a perfect day in the big outdoors.

NEW BELTS FASTEN AT SIDE

Decorations Sold in Paris Shops Is Narrow; One Made by the Dressmaker Is Wide.

Both red and orange are introduced in the separate tunics that Paris is showing, but Jenny uses splashing brocades, such as were worn by the men of old Persia. When the tunic is not too long, it is fastened to the skirt at the hip, and pulled in to the smallest dimensions possible by a girdle. The public may think that these girdles are after the manner of those sold in our shops, also in the famous Galeries Lafayette over in Paris which is packed with Americans spending their surplus money. But if the public thinks after that fashion, it is wrong. The belts sold in the shops are narrow, and the ones used by the dressmakers are wide. They fasten at the side, by the way, and have pendants of metal or beads in some cases. The sash which ties at the side is utterly out of fashion.

Blouses Are Opaque. The tendency is to get away from transparent blouses in favor of those made of opaque materials. Some women compromise by having blouses made of three thicknesses of georgette, thus made opaque, but still possessing the softness of the transparent fabric.

To the Physicians of Connellsville

SUSTO is the Only Vitamine Tonic Food Ever O. K'd by a World Famous Nutritional Expert

Dr. Philip B. Hawk is the Professor of Physiological Chemistry at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He analyzed SUSTO, checked up its action, scientifically tested its nutritive value and digestibility in normal human beings and its therapeutic and reconstructive powers in numerous cases of Run-Down Conditions, Loss of Flesh, Anemia, Lack of Strength, Convalescence, Malnutrition, Underweight and Undernourishment of men, women and children. After which he made a most favorable report. Extracts from which we hereafter reprint.

This is the first time in history that a tonic reconstructive has been offered to the public backed by the full approval of world-recognized, scientific authority. It is the first time such a preparation has been estically tested in every possible way before being placed on the market.

Here is what Dr. Hawk said concerning this test:

"In all cases of a general run-down system or in convalescence from such diseases as typhoid fever or influenza, SUSTO played a very important part in stimulating the appetite and causing increases in body weight."

"In practically every case the tonic or stimulating effect was apparent at the start of the feeding and persisted."

"In every instance where undernourished infants and children were given SUSTO, important body-weight increases were registered. A notable case is that of a boy of eleven who had been underweight for three or four years in spite of the best medical and dietetic treatment. The feeding of SUSTO produced a gain of six pounds in three months."

"SUSTO also caused normal adult persons to put on weight. One of our cases (a normal young woman) gained seven pounds in two months by the use of it. And still another, a married woman, gained two and a half pounds in three months."

"One of our lady of 75 who had weighed under 85 pounds for 50 years, increased her weight to 100 pounds by the use of SUSTO. In no case did any patient object to the taste of SUSTO. In fact, one physician associated with us reports that one of his children took his new refusal to take any milk unless it contains SUSTO."

"Some individuals were found who could not digest straight milk but who could handle milk with SUSTO very nicely."

"SUSTO as proved by us is an excellent nutritive tonic and growth-promoting therapeutic product. It would prove useful to all convalescers, to normal adults who wish to put on weight, to undernourished children and adults, and to men, women and children in general who show signs of a run-down system."

It would be impossible to secure higher testimony as to the tonic food value of SUSTO.

SUSTO is rich in the Vitamines of Rice, Eggs Milk and Yeast—namely rich in Pot. Soluble and Water Soluble Vitamines A, B, C, together with Beef Protein, Nuclein and Iron—and indicated for malnutrition and allied diseases.

A copy of Dr. Hawk's full report will be sent to any physician. A postal request will bring it. Address: Chester Kent & Co., Chemists, Boston, Mass.

SUSTO is for sale in Connellsville by the Laughrey Drug Co.

WOULD PRESERVE OLD HOUSE

Plans Made for Restoring Structure, Said to Be the Oldest in the Northwest.

Plans are being laid by the Vancouver Historical society to preserve the old Cockington house at Orford, six miles from this little town. The house is said to be the oldest in the northwestern part of the United States. It is of logs and is in a ruinous condition, being used as a sheepfold. The historical society expects to restore it.

The estate was built early in the last century by Richard Cockington, an employee of the Hudson's Bay company, when Fort Vancouver was the capital of the fur company on the western side of the Rocky mountains. It was the first schoolhouse in the Northwest. Cockington taught the children of fur company employees and settlers there. Mrs. Elizabeth Bird, eighty-five years of age, still living in Clarke county, Washington, was married in it in 1858 by Chaplain John McCarty, stationed at Fort Vancouver. This was a short time after U. S. Grant, after his return from the Mexican war, visited the fort.

When Fort Vancouver was owned by the Hudson's Bay company, the company was ruler of three-fourths of the North American continent. Its dominion extended from Labrador to the Pacific and from the Arctic ocean to the Spanish settlements in California. It moved its western headquarters to

EASY TO START "HARD TIMES"

Rumor Becomes an Endless Chain Once the Proper Impetus Has Been Given to It.

In Paris a portrait painter sat in his favorite cafe sipping his wine. His first small bottle finished, he was about to order more when his eye fell on a headline in the "Figaro," "Hard Times Are Coming," so instead of ordering his usual second bottle he called for his check.

"Is there anything wrong with the wine?" asked the landlord. "The wine is good, but I did not order a second bottle because hard times are coming and we must economize," explained the artist. "Hard times," said the landlord, "when my wife must not order the silk dress we planned, but must take one of cotton."

"Hard times," repeated the dressmaker when the order was canceled. "This is no time to expand. I must not make the improvements I had planned in the place."

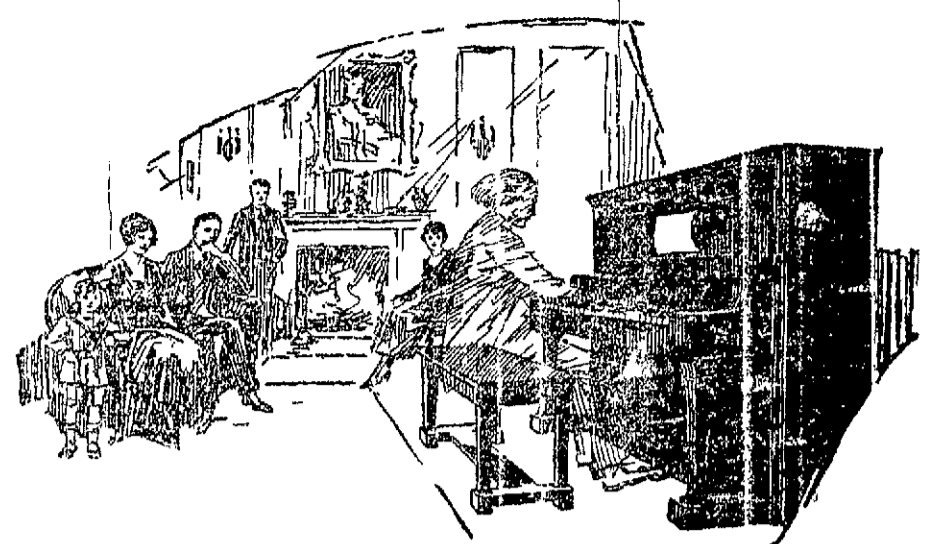

"Hard times," said the builder when the dressmaker canceled the building plans. "Then I cannot have my wife's portrait painted."

So he wrote to the artist and canceled his order.

After receiving the letter the artist went again to his favorite cafe and ordered a small bottle of wine to soothe him. On a nearby chair was the paper in which he had read of hard times two days before. He picked it up to read more closely and found it was two years old!

Wifely Diplomacy. "My husband positively refuses to do errands for me downtown."

"Mine used to, but I cured him of it mighty quick. 'Oh, well, I said, 'I suppose I can do it myself. And while I am downtown I might as well do a little shopping, so you might as well have $25.' He never refused after that."—Tucson Transcript.

At the Theatres

THE SOISON.

"PASSION FRUIT" starring Doraldina, the world's greatest dancer, is attracting one of the largest crowds in the history of the theatre. Doraldina dances superbly, and acts no less superbly. Her lithe, peculiar grace lends itself admirably to the interpretation of the words of the Hawaiian natives. In "Passion Fruit" she gives a wonderfully dramatic portrayal of burning passion and smoldering hate in the languorous tropics—a fascinating theme of brute force clashing for supremacy with a woman's will. Here Doraldina reveals herself an actress of power and conviction, as well as a great dancer. Picture-goers seeing this picture are treated to a strange religious dance never before shown in the United States—"The Dance of the White God." "Passion Fruit" tells of the plotting of a plantation overseer to win the hand of his master's daughter. Into the intrigue comes Pierce Lamont, a wreck of an American, whose self-respect is finally recovered through love. He is placed into the mouth of an active volcano as an offering to the angry gods and saved only in the nick of time. It is an absorbing, tense drama, fully living up to the promise of its name. Praise is due the supporting cast, which includes Edward Earle, Stuart Holmes, Sidney Bracer, Florence Turner and William H. Baldwin. John Ince ably directed the production.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"MOONLIGHT FOLLIES"—A peppy picture of romance and realism with Marie Prevost in the stellar role, is the feature picture today and tomorrow. Nan Rutledge was a baby vamp without equal. She also was inclined to be a little wild. She staged moonlight dances at her father's palatial country home that nearly drove the old man frantic. All men were her subjects, but her particular footstool was Rene, a lavender-scented youth of gentle occupations. One day Papa Rutledge called a halt. Summoning Nan to his office he ordered her to pick a husband and settle down. She promptly picked a man whose shadow she saw slithering against the office door. "Trot him in," she commanded. It was Anthony Givens, a rich client, and a woman hater. Nan wanted to vomit him. He didn't want well at all. Even when he was the honor guest at Nan's next house party, he was slow in thawing out. Finally he began to slip—and then it happened. He proposed. Nan accepted him and in five minutes changed her mind in front of the guests. That's where she stood. She didn't know she had hooked a cave-man. That night he abducted her and whisked her away to the moon-tains. After roughing it a bit, she finally decided that a pair of cave-man arms made a better resting place than a flock of lavender-scented sofa pillows.

THE ORPHEUM.

"WAY DOWN EAST," a picturization of that delightful story of New England rural life which Lillian Gish, F. B. O'Brien and John R. Gorman made so familiar upon the American stage, was witnessed by good-sized audiences yesterday and the attendance tonight promises to break all records. In "Way Down East" D. W. Griffith, the master of the silent drama, has taken the simple story of plain people and infused into the charm of New England homesteads with their quaint surroundings, a realism and perspective and enchanting roadways, meadows and hills, old-fashioned sleighing parties, barn dances in a manner which creates a new art form. Adding to the attractiveness of the picture is a special orchestra which plays the accompanying scores which is an important feature of the show. For sheer beauty of landscapes and for its realism of atmospheric surroundings "Way Down East" becomes a classic and has aroused wonderful interest in every town and city where it has been presented. Rising up from its charm and its humor in colorful contrasts the picture rushes to a climax in the powerful ice jam and the breaking up of the floe on the river which combines every element of stirring drama and becomes at once the most astounding and remarkable scenes ever seen within a playhouse at all times. The ice scene is the most thrilling ever presented before a crowd of spectators. Lillian Gish, as Anna Moore, is seen in a role surpassing anything in which she has ever appeared and for more than two hours and a half the audience follow her through her sorrow and joy. She is supported by Richard Barthelmess, well-known Griffith star, and the best of prominent screen activities.

Most Men Have Defects.
If the man who measures you for your next suit calls out "N. K. B." to the assistant who jots down the measurements, take care! It is a warning that your physique is not all that it should be—in fact a great deal less. It stands for "neck over deal, round back."

"It's the commonest fault in the physique of our customers," explained a tailor. "Most men have fat chest and round back. The army straightened some of them up for a while but they've begun slumping back again. About one man in ten has bow legs, the bow running from 1½ to 4 inches. Practically every man's shoulders are uneven—one higher than the other. But that's so common that you wouldn't call it a defect. "Here's another thing I've noticed. All the athletes, the professional strong men, have sloping shoulders. The fellow with the straight, heavy shoulders whom you'd take for an athlete usually isn't."—Milwaukee Journal.

Whether or not they change training camps the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers. It is stated, will play a series of spring games again next year, winding up with a road trip on their way north.

Farmer Must Have Square Deal or Hum of the Factory Will End, McSparran Says

YORK, Pa., Dec. 14.—Agriculture in the United States now stands "at the parting of the ways," John A. McSparran, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, declared in his opening address at the 49th annual meeting of the grange here Tuesday.

Pointing to changed conditions which today prevent the farmer from "pulling up stakes" and moving to a new section if he does not like conditions where he is living, he asserted that the very pioneers are facing readjustment of values that bids fair to wipe out the equities their hard work and rigorous life have earned in their properties.

"The whole nation has just seen that agriculture cannot be imposed upon and other business escape the injury," he said. "The Federal Reserve Board last fall, when it cut us off from European markets where for a hundred years we have disposed of our surplus, thought it was doing a smart trick and that when food and living were reduced the factories would enjoy better conditions, wages would fall and all would go on merrily as a wedding feast. But these go-getters expert financiers forgot one link in the chain of their deliberate delation process and that was that when the farmer had no paying market, the greatest consumer was forced to quit buying and industry lost its orders and labor their jobs. Once agriculture would have suffered in silence and neglect and would have taken out of virgin or rich soils the loss sustained. That day is past and the farmer will from now on either have the consideration that is his due, have a square deal in the thought of the nation, have a system of distribution that is up to date or the hum is going to die out of the factory and the smile of prosperity fade from the workman's face."

"There are more people in other callings than ever before who know this important relationship and who are willing to give to agriculture fair play but no one but the farmer knows the farmers' need, no one but he can voice the ideals of the farmer. If, therefore, at this time, he speaks with reason and logic his plea will gain attention and his just demands be met; but if he seeks unreasonable things he will be reckoned as seeking special privileges and lose the respect of many who would have favored his cause."
